Everybody on this planet has a connection to God.

And there are many, many, many paths.
In all of the religions everybody is connecting to God in so many different ways.

It is all the same one God manifesting – different names, different faces, different forms, different times throughout history.

All paths lead to the same end result,
as all religions have the same common denominator:
Love of God.

FROM THE EDITORS

These quotes were spoken by Kalindi, a modern-day spiritual master whose spiritual master is a current Incarnation of God, Lord Gourasana, “The Golden One.” He passed from this world in 1995. Kalindi is infused with His power, knowledge, and energy to pass on to anyone searching for Home – spiritual freedom – or anyone who wants to come closer into the love of God.

Kalindi has spoken many talks to guide people Home to spiritual freedom and to help them find more of the love of God. The quotes in this booklet were taken from these talks and minimally edited for ease of reading. Kalindi’s talks, as well as her books, DVDs, and programs, are available in their original format from the Miracle of Love® bookstore.

Kalindi and The Lady together, along with the many people who have come to be part of Miracle of Love, have created a nondenominational worldwide mission to help bring God’s love to the world. There is a six-day seminar offered all over the world where you can experience a deep, personal connection with God and your true self. Kalindi and The Lady guide the Path to Ultimate Freedom®. Also offered is the Modern-Day Meditation® practice, developed by Gourasana. It is a contemporary practice that modernizes age-old meditation by including components relevant to life today.

*When someone touches Kalindi, they move closer to God just by her touch.
When they look in her eyes, they move closer to God
just by being able to look in her eyes.
And of course, when she speaks, every time they listen to her speak, they move closer to God.
And moving closer to God means filled with more love,
more awareness, more knowledge,
more understanding about this material world –
a complex place to understand.
People are bypassing years and years of unnecessary study of scriptures. Because it's so simple after all;
simple, I know, on one hand and complex on the other.*

Don't You Want to Be Free?

QUOTES OF TRUTH ON SPIRITUAL FREEDOM

By Kalindi La Gourasana

Current-day Spiritual Master and Voice of God

I am here to help you to re-establish your eternal relationship in union with the Lord, to have no more separation between you and God, to return Home, to find your way to eternal life and union with God while you are alive.

The truth cannot be put into words; it cannot. The words that I speak are to give you a hint at the direction that you should go in, so that you can directly come to realize the truth for yourself.

You must try to understand the guidance that I am bringing to you, and then you must apply it to your life. There is no blanket process of how to do this. There is no “one way” to do it, because each of your paths is so highly individualized. Breaking free is going to be unique for each person. What you go through and how you go about your transformation will be different for each person, but some things will be the same for everyone.

What everyone is searching for is that eternal love of God, that feeling of Home, and that connection back to the true realm from where you came. There comes a point in everyone's evolution, there comes a point for every single living entity, when you are simply ready to finish up all of your business in this material world.

When I talk about finding ultimate union, breaking the cycle of birth and death, I am talking about becoming free while you are alive and living your life in the ever-increasing, ever-expanding love of God. I am talking about giving that love to other people and making a difference in this world. And I am talking about you having succeeded, at the natural time of your death, in achieving a full state of awareness and returning to God; and you do not take birth again.

You cannot find your true being without finding the Lord. This is not possible. From the Lord, all power comes. From the Lord comes your connection to your true self. And with the Lord, you reside in a place that your soul knows, called Home.

You are from Home, the true realm of existence. That is where you are from. You have come into this material world. It is not your true home. It is not where you belong. Life in this world is a temporary experience. It is an experience that you will continue to have until your soul reaches the point that you are simply ready to return Home. You will continue to have this experience until you no longer want to travel lifetime after lifetime in this material world.

Breaking free while you are alive is the greatest thing you can do for humankind. It is the greatest service for the world. It is the most unselfish act, because in breaking free, you bring to this world of illusion the pure love of God to be shared and to be given to humankind. It is like bringing water to a desert.

You have come to identify your very being with all of the walls and barriers and beliefs and concepts and judgments and falseness that actually run your life. You actually live your life based upon fears, based upon hatred, based upon blame, based upon judgment; and none of it has anything to do with your true self. This identity is an illusion. Your true self is in God, is whole, is complete, and is free of the illusion.

This material existence is always, at best, in every single way, a world of false hopes and dreams. It always will be. You have left your true Home where everything exists eternally. You have become so lost in this illusion for so long, you cannot even remember Home. So you keep trying to create a home in a false reality.

Until you are filled with the presence of the Lord, the illusion will still remain in you in some form.

You have lived so many lifetimes for millions of years. In the years you have been traveling in this material creation, there has been illusion after illusion after illusion piled on top of you, creating a being of illusion. This being of illusion is something that you perceive as true. You believe that who you think you are is true, and the way that you are is true, and that it is you. However, that being is just the many illusions, the many concepts, the many beliefs that have been piled on top of you throughout all of the lifetimes.

What it boils down to is, this material illusion is not your Home. It is not permanent. It was never meant to be eternal. And when you are ready to get out, help is brought by the Lord for you to get out.

Humankind is ready for a big awakening now, and a lot of people are ready for a big leap in consciousness. A lot of people are ready to hear the very simple basic truth that this is not your true Home. And when it is time, the Lord sends an Incarnation. Incarnations throughout the ages are constantly coming to this world.

When an Incarnation comes, there is a great opportunity at that particular time – as a direct result of the presence of the Incarnation – to actually break free of the illusion and return into God consciousness.

There are always Incarnations coming into this world, throughout the world, depending on what is needed, depending on the consciousness of the world and the evolutionary state that humankind is in at that time. They come with varying degrees of power, and they each come directly to help in a certain way and to accomplish a certain mission.

Incarnations of God are not the same as spiritual masters. Also, everyone on the earth is not an “incarnation” of God. Just because we are all parts of God, that does not make us God or an Incarnation of God. We are a part of God and we always will be.

It is due to the opening in your heart and your trust and faith in God that you can be assisted by the special power of this current-day Incarnation, Lord Gourasana, “The Golden One.”

Breaking free from the cycle of birth and death happens by sheer willpower, the grace of God, the power of God, and prayer. It is by His grace and His help that you break free from the material illusion. You know there is a way, but not without Him. And not without a spiritual master, because a spiritual master is your link to the light. The spiritual master is planted on the earth as the light. A master is like a magnet, and you keep coming toward the magnet. Coming toward the magnet is something that happens within your heart; it does not necessarily mean being in the physical presence of the master.

It is important on a spiritual path that you have a live spiritual master. The spiritual master carries a special link and connection to God to help you steer clear of the illusion, to help you to understand the meditation practice that is being brought in, to bring you spiritual guidance. A master is not here to be worshipped. A master is here to help, to bring God's love.

There are so many paths. Every single religion and every path to God takes you closer to God. Everyone in the world is connected to God. Everyone. Everyone is connected to God, whether they are in a religion, on a spiritual path, or not on a path. There are so many workshops and seminars and things to do in the world to improve yourself and to become freed up more. But practically everything that is going on is to help the ego within the illusion. You think that you are getting freed up spiritually, but you are just creating a spiritual ego. It is just the ego that is getting freed up and feeling better about itself.

If you want to go Home, for those who sincerely want to be united with Him, then there is a letting go that must happen continuously. No complacency.

Every day, do everything you can do to become freer, to move forward, to come closer to truth. Become freer and freer every day until the day arrives that you are filled with the presence of God. When you are filled, you stand in this world with the full presence and love of God in truth. And you stand as someone that can help others to find freedom because you know freedom.

You can achieve everything that you want and hope for with God, with enlightenment, with spiritual freedom. All of the longing in your heart can be fulfilled. You can release all of the anguish that you have inside of you, all of the hatred, all of the anger with God, and become free of this illusory suffering. You can come into the light. Your spiritual self can wake up and you can learn what is going on in this material world.

No matter how great the light and love is that you achieve as a human being, without complete union with God and giving up all separate will, you are still buying into the illusion, and you will continue to stay trapped in the illusion.

The illusion doesn't fall away overnight. It takes time and steady work and serious desire. It takes fiber and intense desire, dedication, and commitment to walk through the fire of spiritual transformation and to actually achieve self realization. It doesn't come easy. The path to self realization is not easy by any means. It is completely possible. There is so much assistance from God. There is so much guidance and there is so much power available directly from the Source.

It is only through direct realization that you will come to understand freedom, that you will come to understand the true realm of existence. It is not a state and it is not a concept. It is nothing that you can conjure up with your mind.

When God sends a spiritual master to assist you to break free, it is to bring different words of truth and different types of assistance to help you in your battle to break free from the illusion. But once you want out of the material realm, once you want out and your intent is to do whatever it takes to break out, God will bring you all the power, all the assistance, all of the guidance that you need in order to see the illusion clearly.

You need to fully awaken your awareness so that you can start to shed the illusion, and so your true self can begin to manifest.

There are many things that are being offered in the world. There are many different kinds of masters and so-called masters and teachers. There is emotional release work going on; many of the different parts of what I am teaching are being offered in different places. But no one has the full entire picture, and no one is specifically offering the way out of this material world, no rebirth. The opportunity is not being offered anywhere else to find your way fully back to God, fully walking with God in this material world, to find your way Home while you are alive. You can find your way Home, in His arms, at your natural time of death not afraid, not lost, not wondering where you will be going, not wondering what will be happening to you at death.

It is impossible to explain to you what it feels like to live in a state of ultimate freedom, so stop trying to figure it out. Just do your work and return to God. Find your way Home. There will be constant surrender and sacrifices for the highest purpose of bringing God's love and God's truth forth to the world. There will be a selfless life of giving. That is what it feels like to live for God, with God – living your life for people: selfless giving, surrender.

A state of full awareness means that you are wide awake; you are fully alert; you look, you see what is going on in this world; you feel it all. You are no longer bound and trapped into thinking that this world of false hopes and dreams is anything but suffering.

A state of full awareness means that you are Home and have the ecstasy of Home going on within you. And you desire to stay as long as possible on this earth to help humankind. You do not sit around wishing for the day that you leave. You are already Home while you are alive, and then you stay with great desire to help for as long as possible.

You can't get free from this place without going headfirst into the reality of what's going on in this place. There's no way around it. You have to see it for the suffering that it is; you have to feel it for the suffering that it is.

Full awareness means you are aware at every single solitary second, every second, every second. You are aware you are in a minefield. That is why when you hear of the atrocities and the suffering that is going on, whatever kind of suffering, you feel it so deeply, and you feel so much compassion because you are standing in it. You are not afraid to just stand in the truth of what is going on here. It doesn't mean you are bummed out or anything like that. It just means you are aware that this place is all suffering.

You will never find a fully realized being that can't think and that doesn't see what's going on in their life, in their surroundings, in their environment, in all ways. A fully realized being is not only fully aware in the spiritual realm but aware in this physical reality as well. A fully realized being has a very keen vision and ability to function, and to solve problems: to see what the problem is, to come up with solutions. Such a high level of thinking and control of the mind, control of the emotions, control of the senses goes on in a realized being. As you come closer to God, your ability to think and solve problems materially and spiritually becomes sharper and sharper. You ultimately tap into such a high level of intelligence.

In order to break free, your entire life must eventually be about letting go, serving God, prayer, and openness to be filled by the presence of God. To be filled by the presence of God is the only way out of the illusion. The power and assistance from God at this time is so great that thousands will be breaking free; this has never happened at one time on this earth. But due to the power and special assistance from God now available, it will be happening.

In order to get out of this material world, you have to peel off all the layers of illusion that have you bound. You have to see the illusion. You have to do something about it. You have to do the spiritual work. You have to. That is how you will break free of the material world. You have to do the work.

This simple path to God is not about some concept of enlightenment that you have that you are going to have some enlightened state. That word “enlightenment” has become such a bad word to represent living in God’s divinity. That word “enlightenment” has become a word that feeds the being of illusion, the ego. People have taken the word “enlightenment” and are using it for purposes of the ego, finding some ultimate ecstatic, happy, blissful state in the material world.

The last lifetime is all preparation to shed all of the illusion and to completely destroy the false ego, the being of illusion. It is to give birth to your true self, to come into the light completely, and to find that complete endless love of God and that union with God so that you are completely in the light. You return to the Source while you are alive.

You will succeed if you get on your hiking boots and go through the swamps, like a brave soldier with courage. Courage means that you are not afraid to be afraid. It doesn’t mean there is no fear. It means despite the fear, you will be brave and go forward and do what you need to do to break you free in the next situation, in the next area in your life. It means you are not afraid to make the changes, you are not afraid to feel the pain, you are not afraid to be afraid. Everybody is afraid to be afraid, and everybody is afraid of the pain. So you need to become courageous and never give up. Just never, ever, ever, give up, and don't let the fear stop you.

True spiritual freedom doesn't mean that you are just cut loose in the material world and you can do whatever you like, however you like, whenever you like. Freedom is not what you think. Some of you want to just be free to do whatever you want and play and frolic in the streets. That is a feeling that is inside of you and you can do that, but spiritual freedom doesn't mean that you are just free to do whatever you want in this material world. Freedom in God is to be out of the grasp of this material illusion.

Freedom happens inside of your being. Freedom is to be out of the grasp, the spider web, the crazy glue of this material world and fully living the will of God.

To travel the journey back Home out of this material world will require that you undergo a lot of discipline in your life. There is not one certain type of discipline that I can tell you that you must do, because it is highly individualized to each person's path. The consciousness of discipline and the reality of discipline will start to happen as you become more and more spiritually serious. You will have to become more and more disciplined in many ways.

You know that there is birth, there is disease, there is old age, and there is death. That is for certain about this material world. The other certainty is that just as there is birth and death, there is rebirth. There is reincarnation. That is a fact, whether you believe it or not. Until you do something about it.

Until you do something to stop the cycle of birth and death, you will again take birth. There is no eternal hell that one goes to and never, ever sees the light.

Until you do something and get yourself out of this cycle of birth and death, you are going to keep coming into this place of duality where there is just nonstop suffering and a little bit of happiness here and there.

There is a way through the darkness into the light. You have to grab on to God so tightly in your heart, holding His hand while you walk through your transformation. Even when you can't feel His hand and you can't feel Him near you, you need to constantly bring Him back into focus; you need to ask Him to please help you, always turning to Him.

Desire is everything. If you want God, really want Him, then you are going to have Him. Desire is the way: burning desire, intense prayer, deep meditations.

Judgments, concepts, and beliefs have a stranglehold on the world. These illusions are the crux of the separation between people, between religions. They are hanging you up in your spiritual advancement and stopping you from hearing what could help you.

When you have found your way Home, your self is free, at peace and rejoicing within in the Lord and in the true realm of existence. Your life on earth in God will mean that you live as a yogi, a modern-day yogi in the marketplace. When you are with God, you don't live like a yogi in a cave, but you have yogic qualities: fully present, fully alive, fully conscious, filled with the love of God, swimming in the love of God, and disciplined and mindful in each moment to what God is asking of you. You are fully aware and very conscious of what it is that God is asking of you in each moment. There is no more separate will. There is only the will of God.

Once you have tasted being situated in the depth of your heart, and once you have experienced what it feels like to be in that depth and also feel the love of your soul, then you are on your way back Home.

So many people are very deep and striving so hard to find God and find the self and feel the soul, but they are afraid to feel the pain that the depth of the heart brings. You may think that you are deep and doing the spiritual work, but everyone has to learn to live in the depth of your heart in order to free your soul so that it can return to God and return into who you are.

Knock, and the door will be opened. Knock from your soul. Knock from your desire. God answers desire. If you want to be with Him, to whatever degree you want that, to that degree it will happen. And if you want it purely, with just 100 percent truth, and that is your prayer, and you are willing, then guess what? You are going to be helped to find that result. However much you want God, however much you want to let go, that is how much you are going to find.

Your whole day needs to become like a prayer. You have to get so your awareness is never forgetting what it is that you really want, and somehow that is stirring in you all day long. You have to get to the point that you can see how your ego interacts with people; you can see how it makes you feel; you can see how the illusion gets you in so many different ways. Get to the point that in the workplace, you can see the illusion sometimes so clearly that you can be in a constant state of desire for freedom and you don't lose that.

True spiritual transformation back to God requires so much trust and faith. That is what will hold you through all of the pains and fears of letting go. Your trust and faith will always show you the way into more light.

Pray for the experience to come to you that you need to bring you closer to God, whatever that may be. Pray that you will know the truth directly. Pray to God. You can always pray. You can pray constantly to know the truth and to find the truth.

How many will pray to God, will pray to the Lord? How many will ask Him for His help, really ask him for His help?

You will find your true power when you find the Lord. And you will never know your true power unless you find the Lord.

There will be certain spiritual states and love of God that you are going to tap into along the way that are going to be very, very, very great. You will be so overwhelmed by them that you will think, “Oh, if this is not enlightenment, then I don’t know what enlightenment must be, because this is so great.” But I am here to take you Home, which is beyond enlightenment. It is ultimate freedom.

God gives to you so much, you won’t even believe what your life will be like when you are completely immersed in the Lord. There is no lack. There is nothing missing. There is love. There is unending ecstasy. And of course there is pain, because your heart is so open in a world of suffering.

It would be meaningless cruelty for you to be led down a path where you have to look at the illusion within you and the illusion all around you with such open eyes; it would be meaningless cruelty to guide you down such a path of shining so much light, exposing the illusion in such a raw way, and having you have to go face to face with the illusion, if there were no way out of it. But there is a way to freedom from the illusion. There is light and love waiting. But you have to go all the way through your transformation; you have to keep going all the way through the illusion into the light.

Yes, there is a little happiness here and there in this world, but everything is intertwined with so much suffering. Do you want to continue to be in this place of suffering for another lifetime? Or is it possibly time for you to find out about spiritual life, and about returning Home to God and leaving this place of suffering behind?

I am here specifically to speak to and make this announcement to the people that can hear, and the people that are ready: You can come Home now. The guidance is here for you to return Home in this lifetime.

Don't let the fear stop you. Please. Everything is waiting. And it is love and ecstasy beyond your comprehension. Everything is waiting. It is only love and light. It is only God.

If you could only know what is waiting for you: as you let go of the illusory world, simultaneously you are filled with so much light and so much love of God. It is not that you are letting go of something and then there is nothing waiting for you. There is nothing but the most incredible love and ecstasy waiting for you as you evolve and as you let go, and as you come closer to God. Please, I urge you, do not let your fear stop you.

It is everything that is waiting for you. It is Home. It is. It is ever-increasing ecstasy. It is eternal life now. And it is peace in His embrace. I long for you to find your way, to find your way Home.

What can I tell you, but call you to come? Now. Come. It is love and ecstasy beyond your comprehension. It is Home. It is now. It is not within the illusion of false hopes and dreams, in any way, shape, or form. Along the way, while you walk the rugged road of this transformation, you will have great ecstasy and you will have great agony. Sometimes you will think, “This is not a path of love and ecstasy beyond your comprehension; it feels like a path of pain and suffering beyond your comprehension.” But that is just what it feels like as you are awakening out of the dream. Once you awaken out of the dream, you live in the love and ecstasy that is beyond your comprehension.

As long as you have this human form, you will feel the agony of material existence and what is going on with the sleeping consciousness of everyone in this world trying to make this world of illusion become Home. And it never will be Home. Only Home is Home.

I beckon you: Come Home. Why prolong your suffering any longer when the door is open? I beckon to you: Come. Everything is waiting. He will not fail you, but you must surrender fully.
